Jurisdiction, Structure and Authority

Each campus or center has security officer to help provide a safe environment and most sites have a security office with licensed and trained security officer who patrol the campus grounds and parking lots during the hours that the campuses are open for students and staff. College security officers are not certified police officers but they work closely with local authorities. The officers provide an important service to our campuses through active patrol, observation and intervention. Senior security supervisors and senior officers perform security assessments and inspections, conduct interviews, complete incident reports and notify the local police authority when necessary.

Clery/Crime Reports

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act is the landmark federal law, originally known as the Campus Security Act that requires colleges and universities across the United States to disclose information about crime on and around their campuses. The definition used for purposes of these reports are particular to the act and may not be entirely consistent with those definition used by other entities that collect crime information.

The act requires universities to report statistics for the three most recent years. The statistics were gathered from police reports, college security reports and from reports made to Campus Security authorities. The college's Campus Security authorities for purposes of this report include: college security, provosts, associate provosts and their professional staffs, Disability Resources counselors, academic advisers in all divisions, student organization advisers, athletic coaches, sports club advisers and visitor control attendants. A formal police report or investigation is not needed in order for a crime report to be included in the statistics.

The act also requires reporting of not only arrests for liquor law, drug law, and illegal weapons violations, but also referrals for college disciplinary actions of both students and employees based on these violations. A recent clarification in the act requires reporting of not only disciplinary referrals for students but referrals of employees. Therefore, the statistics as of 2002 reflect referrals of students and employees.

Campus Crime Reports

The Clery Act, a federal law, requires colleges and universities that receive federal money to report statistics regarding criminal activity on campus and in the neighboring area for the three most recent years, as well as safety information, to the campus community.

Emergency Alerts, Continued

Process for Timely Alerts

The Clery Act requires institutions to communicate a serious crime or emergency to the campus community in a timely way.

A warning is issued as soon as pertinent information is available. College-wide Security Services will issue the warning, which may be disseminated by email, posting or a combination of methods on the specific campus or campuses.

Process for Confirming a Significant Emergency or Dangerous Situation and Appropriately Notifying the Campus Community

The President, or the college-wide Incident Commander and/or the campus Incident Commander will determine the level of emergency based on reported information and verified by campus security and campus personnel if possible. As soon as SPC has confirmed that a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists, the President or designee while taking into account the safety of the campus, will issue a notification. The only reason SPC may not immediately announce an emergency or dangerous situation is if, in doing so would hamper ongoing law enforcement efforts.

Decision criteria to determine level of emergency:

Type 1 – Disaster

Type 2 – Emergency

Type 3 – Minor Incident

Procedures for Testing Emergency Response and Evacuation

In accordance with US Public Law 110-315 Higher Ed Act, Section 485- Clery Act, SPC has procedures in place to test emergency response and evacuation procedures on at least an annual basis. These procedures include:

- The test may or may not be announced.
- Emergency response and evacuation procedures are publicized and conducted at least once a year.
- Each test is documented to include exercise, date, time and location.

For more information, contact the Office of Emergency Management.

Summary of Tests Conducted of SPC Emergency Response and Evacuation Procedures

The SPC Alert Emergency Notification System was tested college-wide on the following dates:

- March 1 and Sept. 25, 2018
- Jan. 31 and Sept. 26, 2019
- Jan. 30 and Sept. 30, 2020
- Jan. 21 and Sept. 23, 2021

Regular testing of the SPC Alert System and evacuation procedures on individual campuses is also done to ensure functionality and to familiarize recipients with the system's features. For detailed information, contact the Office of Emergency Management.

Sexual Harassment

Zero Tolerance

St. Petersburg College has a strong commitment to keeping its workplaces and classrooms free from sexual harassment. The responsibility for doing so rests with each member of the college community.

SPC's Policy on Sexual Harassment

A student or employee in violation of the SPC's Sexual Harassment Policy is subject to disciplinary action, including dismissal or termination. View Rule. View Procedure.

Ready to help

The Equal Access/Equal Opportunity (EA/EO) office will help members of the SPC community who report any incident of sexual harassment. SPC wants each student and employee to have an educational or work environment free from sexual harassment.
EMERGENCY? Dial 911 or Campus Safety at 727-791-2560.

Types of Sexual Harassment

Quid Pro Quo (This For That)

Quid Pro Quo occurs when offers of education, employment participation or benefits are linked to sexual favors. These offers may be made explicitly or implicitly, but the outcomes or conditions must be unwelcome. Harassment exists whether the student or employee resists and suffers the threatened consequence or submits and avoids the consequence.

Hostile Environment

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that are sufficiently severe, persistent or pervasive create a hostile or offensive educational or working environment. This adversely affects a person's education or job. Off-color jokes, sexually explicit discussions, graffiti, pictures, sexually explicit reading materials, e-mails and computer screens may create a hostile environment, particularly when there are power differentials between the individuals.

Hostile Sexual Misconduct

Hostile sexual misconduct exists where individuals are subjected to unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. The sexual offers or misconduct may be made by a student, employee or third party.

Frequently Asked Questions

Where can I get a copy of the college's sexual harassment policy?

SPC Sexual Harassment Policy is posted online and in the Student Handbook, the Supplement to the Faculty, Staff and Student Handbook, and the Faculty Manual. Copies of the rules also may be obtained from provosts' offices and the libraries.

How can sexual harassment be discouraged?

Be alert to unwelcome behavior of a sexual nature whether it is you or someone else being harassed. Don't ignore an incident; silence appears to give consent. Be aware of possible misinterpretations of your genuinely friendly behavior. Be firm when confronted in a harassing situation by telling the individual that such behavior is against college policy. Don't be intimidated by fear of retaliation.

What can be done about a sexual harassment incident?

The first thing to remember is that sexual harassment is not your fault. Speak up at any incident. Say "stop," "no" or "that makes me uncomfortable" clearly and firmly. Make sure to report sexual harassment to the proper college officials as soon as possible.

Who is the proper person at the college to inform about a sexual harassment incident? Every site has designated representatives to contact regarding complaints of sexual harassment by students or employees. You do not have to file your complaint on your home campus. If in doubt, contact any provost or associate provost.

Can confidentiality be guaranteed?

No. However, the information is generally limited to those who need to know. By law, employee records are generally considered public records but are provided only upon an appropriate request. Student records are generally protected from the public disclosure law and are protected by state and federal laws.

Why does a report need to be filed?

Research indicates that only a few persons engage in harassment, but they tend to harass repeatedly. When harassment incidents are reported, the college can take action. Prompt reporting of an incident is very important.

I'm not sure if my instructor is sexually harassing or if he/she is just very friendly. I don't want to irritate him/her because I need a good grade in the class. How can I be sure the instructor has no more than the subject matter on his/her mind?

The best advice is to be cautious when you are in a situation where you feel uncomfortable. A student may find it difficult and threatening to refuse the signals that can be sent by instructors. If the situation doesn't seem right, it probably isn't, and you should report it to one of the designated representatives of the college.

EA/EO REPORTING CONTACTS

In non-emergency situations, report discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault or any sexual misconduct to the Director of EA/EO/Title IX Coordinator or to any of the other designated reporting contacts on each campus as listed below or their successor in office. If for any reason you do not wish to report the complaint to your campus or site representative, you may report it to any of the persons listed. The individual receiving a complaint regarding discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault or any sexual misconduct should contact the Equity Office. If no one can be reached at the numbers listed, please call Campus Safety at 727-791-2560.
