

SPC to offer four new Associate in Science degree programs

St. Petersburg College announced today that it will offer four new Associate in Science programs. The new degrees afford exciting opportunities for students. The new programs are:

- » Associate in Science in Photography
- » Associate in Science in Environmental Science Technology
- » Associate in Science in Music Industry Recording Arts (MIRA)
- » Associate in Science in Orthotics and Prosthetics Technology

The photography, environmental science and music programs should be ready for inclusion in the Fall 2009 curriculum. The Orthotics & Prosthetics program should be in the catalog in time for the January 2010 term.

Approval for all four programs was provided by SPC's Board of Trustees at the board's Jan. 27 meeting.

Stan Vittetoe, Provost of SPC's Clearwater Campus and Vice President for Workforce and Continuing Education, helped with the development of the new programs. He said the college moved forward with development because of demand from both students and employers.

"The Orthotics and Prosthetics program will complement our existing four-year O&P program," Vittetoe said. "Our new facility at the Caruth Health Education Center in Pinellas Park already has the necessary space and equipment. Students in the new two-year program will be able to easily transfer their credits to the four-year program."

By the same token, the Environmental Science Technology program will mesh with the college's existing four-year program in Sustainability Management, Vittetoe said.

In December, SPC announced creation of a classes for aspiring music producers, DJs, post production engineers and others who would like to work in the music industry. The new two-year degree program in Music Industry Recording Arts is a more complete curriculum of that streamlined program.

Study Abroad information meeting

Do you know a student looking for something to do this summer? Encourage them to check out SPC's Study Abroad program, where they can learn about another country and earn SPC credit at the same time.

2009 Alumni Luncheon

Almost 100 SPC alumni and friends gathered at the Government Institute Conference Center at the Seminole Campus on Jan. 21 for the 2009 SPC Alumni Luncheon: Our Country, Our Community, Our College. View more images on the Alumni Luncheon slideshow on the Alumni Web site.

Highlights included guest speaker and 2008 Outstanding Alum Jim Sirmons and the introduction of the new STAR (Striving for Top Academic Rewards) scholarship by Alumni President Michelle Piccione. Raymond C. Townsend, Atlanta, won the rights to have the 2009 STAR scholarship named for himself or his family for a year. More than $1,100 was raised for the scholarship through the luncheon. Door prizes were won by Charis Chambers, Kim Corry and Peggy St. Croix.

2008-09 SPC Fact Book completed

The Department of Institutional Research and Effectiveness (IRE) is pleased to present the 2008-09 version of the SPC Fact Book. The Fact Book is intended to provide statistical information to support sound planning and decision-making as well as provide historical perspective of the institution. An electronic version of the 2008-09 Fact Book and links to prior years are located on the IRE Web site. As with any collegewide publication, this document is the result of the time and effort of many individuals at the college. IRE would like to thank everyone involved in the production and review of this year's document.

IRE is committed to continuously assessing and improving the level and quality of our work. To assist us in this effort, we ask that you please take a few minutes to share your perspective and level of satisfaction with the Fact Book and other IRE products and services by completing the Institutional Research Evaluation Survey online.

Retired teacher Earl F. Kohler dies at 93

Earl F. Kohler, a career U.S. Army officer who went on to serve St. Petersburg College as a political science teacher for 39 years, died Monday in St. Petersburg. He was 93.

Mr. Kohler served in the Army as an intelligence officer during World War II, then went on to serve in both Korea and Vietnam. He retired at age 50 with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

In 1956, Mr. Kohler launched a new career on the faculty of St. Petersburg Junior College. Besides teaching political science, he served the college in a number of other capacities. He coached SPC's Brain Bowl team, and in 1978 served on an 11-person search committee that recommended the hiring of Carl M. Kuttler Jr. as the college's new president.

One of Mr. Kohler's earliest students was Kuttler, whom he once remembered this way: "As the president of the Student Association, he stood out; as a student, I don't think he was that much of a standout."

Kuttler remembered Mr. Kohler fondly.

"Earl Kohler was my teacher many years ago, and he had a tremendous impact on me," Kuttler recalled. "He gave me a great love of government and politics, and he inspired me in many ways. He was a fine teacher. I will miss him."

Mr. Kohler retired in 1995 at the age of 80.

Graveside services were planned for Friday, Jan. 30, at 4 p.m. at Woodlawn Memory Gardens. His family has asked that any donations in Mr. Kohler's memory be made to The Hospice of the Florida Suncoast, 5771 Roosevelt Blvd., Clearwater, FL 33760.

Fort Myers Edison Estate/Pine Island Day Trip

Spend the day visiting with Thomas Edison's Seminole Lodge, one of Florida's historic treasures. His family quarters, electrical inventions, research laboratory and tropical gardens are all a fascinating reminder of a bygone era. His best friend, Henry Ford, made his winter home in Fort Myers in 1915, next door to Edison. A narrated river cruise is included in the day trip.

Mixed with the tales of yesteryear and the life of the Calusa Tribe, which existed more than 250 years ago, Pine Island is a hidden treasure tucked between Cape Coral and Sanibel/Captiva Islands. The Tarpon Lodge Sportsmen Inn, circa 1926, will be the luncheon spot on the island.

Friday, Feb. 20

Cost: $75 (includes admissions, transportation and lunch)

Call Lifelong Learning for information or to register 727-341-3184. Register now! Space is limited!

Locker Room:

Basketball teams suffer losses

The men's basketball team lost to Hillsborough Community College Monday night 82-61, moving to 11-10 overall and 3-2 in the Suncoast Conference.

The women's team lost its last three games, including Wednesday against Indian River CC. The team is 3-9 overall, and 1-5 in the Southern Conference.

The men play again Saturday when they meet Manatee CC at 4 p.m. at the St. Petersburg/Gibbs Campus gym at 6605 Fifth Ave. N. The women play again Wednesday against Palm Beach CC at 7 p.m. at the St. Petersburg/Gibbs Campus gym.

All home games are free and played at the St. Petersburg/Gibbs Campus gym at 6605 Fifth Ave N. To keep up with the college's athletic teams, please visit www.spcollege.edu/athletics.

The environmental impacts of bottle water

Some simple tips to decrease hot water usage and save money!

The Issue: Hot water consumption!

The Larger Issue:

- Between 80 and 90 percent of the energy used to heat water is wasted. With 110-million households in the country, that's a lot of inefficiently used energy.
- The cost of heating water amounts to 14% of your utility bill.

Be Part of the Solution

You don't have to take cold showers, eat on dirty dishes or wear dirty clothes to save. Follow these simple steps to reduce your hot-water consumption:

- Install low-flow showerheads. These high pressure aerated showerheads deliver 2.5 gallons per minute rather than 4 to 5 gallons per minute and can reduce hot water consumption by 30 percent. A high quality, low-flow showerhead costs around $15 and will pay for itself within four months.
- Wash your clothes in cold water. Washing machines do not require a minimum temperature. In fact, cold or warm water can be used for most laundry loads. Using cold rather than hot water can amount to a savings of $60 annually and keep 1,300 pounds of CO2 out of the air.
- Use your dishwasher! A fully loaded, efficient, standard capacity EnergyStar (www.energystar.gov/) dishwasher uses less energy than washing dishes by hand.
- Lower the temperature of your water heater. If you have a booster heater on your dishwasher, you can lower the temperature on your water heater to 120 degrees F.
- Install a timer on your electric water heater. Installing a $30 timer that turns the heater on in the morning and off at night can pay for itself in about a year.
- Repair leaks.
- Install an insulation blanket around your water heater to make it more efficient.

Wellness Challenge Update

Forty teams have joined the Wellness Challenge! All college sites are represented with teams and the challenge is on! Creative team names include:

- Team Triumph from Business Services at Epi Svc
- DO Divas, from the District Office
- FIT WITS from Web and Instructional Technology at the Seminole Campus
- Read Runners from the Library at St. Petersburg/Gibbs Campus

Overall feedback on the Wellness Challenge is extremely positive and some of you have great questions and suggestions.

Here are answers to some frequently asked questions:

Q: Can partial points be earned? For example, do I earn four points if I eat four servings of fruits and veggies or do I earn zero points for failing to reach the five-serving goal?

A: To earn five points you need to eat all five servings, so no partial points. Serving size information is found on the Guidelines page.

Q: Must I comment on the most recent Wellness blog or can I comment on a past blog to earn credit? If commenting on prior posts is allowed, is there a limit each week?

A: Yes, you can read any posted archive article. You can earn one point per day, so a maximum of seven points per week.

Q: I wear my seat belt every day, every time I enter a car, but others do not. If you want to encourage people to wear their belts, then wouldn't a daily point possibility be more enticing?

A: Yes! That is an excellent suggestion, so we have changed this to 1 point per day, 7 points per week for wearing a seat belt every day. No partial points are awarded. So, it is very important to download the updated Tracker that reflects this change.

Did you know? If you run your cursor over the red triangle on the Tracker page, you will see additional notes. Stay tuned for weekly Wellness Challenge Updates.
