For all the visual learners out there, listen up! When you are taking notes, I am sure you are using pictures in class to visually see your information. Something that is better than outlining or regular note-taking is mindmapping. Mindmapping helps you to think from general to specific. The wonderful thing is you see it all in one glance, so reviewing notes is so easy. MindMeister (basic version) is a free tool that can turn your computer into your mindmapping machine. Check it out!

Welcome back! I hope that your holidays were filled with lots of special memories. Are you interested in gaining experience in leadership? Do you want to learn skills in marketing and PR? Perhaps you should consider becoming a Downtown Delegate! The Downtown Delegates are the Student Government Leadership Association for the Downtown Center, and the students within this organization assist in planning the cultural, educational and social programs for the year. Interested? I'd love to hear from you!
